

Final D8000

This is a headphone with power. A headphone with a gutsy almost visceral low-end response that delivers a fantastic yet never over-cooked bass fundamental ...

The timbre is more warm to natural sounding than analytical and more forward than neutral. This is not a reference planar sound in the traditional sense. Final has always tuned their headphones to be less reference and more fun but on that score. However, I would have to say that the D8000 is a little more balanced than their previous stuff and certainly their most mature tuning to date.

Our Verdict

The D8000 simply rocks. And I mean with just about every track or record or genre that means something to me ...

Slap on the driving rhythms and solo guitar sounds of The Cult, Metallica, Motley Crue, and Exodus. ... They sound wonderfully authoritative and bang on the money for pure musicality on the D8000.

Anything that needs a solid bass fundamental and rich analog sounding texture gets plenty of that on the D8000.

... an excellent level of build quality has gone into the D8000 to match that voraciously powerful sounding presentation.

9.2
SCORE

Tech spec:

- Type: Planar magnetic headphone with air-film damping system
- Driver complement: Full range AFDS planar magnetic driver
- Maximum SPL: 98dB
- Impedance: 60 Ohms
- Weight: 523g
- Comes with headphone stand and 2 cables (1,5m & 3,5m)

FULL TEST: <https://headfonics.com/2018/12/final-d8000-review/>