

NPC Reviews are in

We are humbled and honored by the great reviews we've been getting on the NuWave Phono Converter and hope you'll forward these on to your customers.

Best and biggest, of course, is Tony Cordesman's rave in the latest issue of the Absolute Sound.

the absolute sound

"... the NuWave is one of the first truly high-end products that can 'stream your analog music' and provide a conversion in both high resolution DSD or PCM ... 'an intensely musical phono preamp'" Anthony Cordesman,
The Absolute Sound, March 2014.

There's also two other important reviews, John Darko's 2-part expose on the NPC in the Digital Audio Review ...

"a 24/96 PCM stream had already shown itself (in Part 1) to be utterly indistinguishable from the analogue output of the NPC itself. This wasn't the case with the NAD D 3020; its digital inputs are easily bested by a healthier analogue feed"

Stereo Times
The Complete Audiophile Magazine

as well as Frank Falles Stereo Times Review.....

"Once I listened and heard how great the recordings turned out and that I could remove the ticks and pops, separate the tracks, and use the files on any computer or to make high-quality CD's, I was like a kid who just found a great new toy."

The NPC is gaining momentum daily as people start to figure out what it's all about. Help us spread the good news to your customers.
